Council Hires New Municipal Clerk

The regular meeting of the Council of Anson, Hindon and Minden was held in the Council Chambers on Wednesday, April 8th, 1970 with Reeve Charles Brandon in the chair. All members of Council were present.

Council passed a By-law at this meeting appointing Mr. Richard Parisotto as Clerk-Treasurer at an annual salary of $7,200.00 per annum. Mr. Parisotto is to commence his duties on the 15th of May, 1970.

Council requested the clerk to write to the Brady Lake Cottagers' Association stating that they had been unable to establish a Public Beach on Brady Lake.

It was passed that council concur with the request of Kinsmen Club of Minden for the use of the snowmobile race track to hold racing for the weekends of December 19, 20, 1970 and March 6, 7th, 1970. Council also agreed with the use of the said track and area for Winter Carnival weekend, subject to the approval of the Winter Carnival Committee. The Kinsmen Club shall pay a one dollar rental fee for each weekend.

Council passed a motion that the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden pay one half of the cost of O.H.S.P. for all permanent municipal employees effective July 1st, 1970.

At 1:30 p.m. after council had lunch, Mr. Vern Workman interviewed Council in regards to the draft plan of subdivision on Mountain Lake. After much discussion, the following resolution was passed: That the council of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden do hereby approve the revised subdivision draft plan of Northern Lakeshores Ltd. on Pt Lot 6 and 7 Con. 8 Township of Minden.

After the above motion was passed Mr. Cowan, of Cowan Insurance Agency reviewed the insurance policies of the Municipality.

The next order of business was the opening of the tenders of a new truck and tractor. Tenders for the truck were received from King Ford, Lindsay; Harvey Krotz Ltd., Lindsay; and Curry Motors Ltd., Haliburton.

Tenders for the tractor were received from Bob Mark Ford Tractor Sales, Lindsay; Rayman Equipment Co. Lindsay; Bracebridge Garage; Wm. R. Buckle Equipment, Agincourt; Eagle Equipment Cookstown; Robt. Arnold Equipment.

Council accepted the tender of Robert Arnold, Lindsay, for a tractor as per specifications with trade in at a cost of $4,772.25 Provincial Sales tax included. This was the lowest tender received meeting specifications.

Council accepted the tender of King Ford, Lindsay to supply a truck for the Municipality as per tender received, without trade-in at net price of $4,799.40 Provincial Sales Tax included subject to the approval of the Municipal Road engineer.

Council passed a motion that the draft plan of Mr. Lorne Bailey on Pt. of Lot 30 Con. 6 Township of Minden be approved, providing developer provides adequate turning areas at both ends of Bailey Drive.

Council passed a motion that whereas it is becoming more difficult each year to meet the expenses of operation at the Minden Recreation Centre; and because the revenue does not meet the necessary expenses incurred, be it resolved that the sum of $1,000 be included in the 1970 budget appropriation and be made available to the Recreation Centre Board of Management. The 1969-70 expenses total $2,971.48 with a revenue expensancy of $2,085.

Council approved the road accounts of $5,075.41 and the municipal accounts in the amount of $8,766.34.

MR. AND MRS. BOB HARVEY CELEBRATED 50TH. WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harvey Sr. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday, April 14th. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are well known in Haliburton County as they have been here since 1944 when they purchased Tall Pines and operated it for 27 years. They sold this business 4 years ago and returned to Minden where they are both enjoying good health.

The Harveys have one daughter Betty Maden of Toronto and Bob of Minden. They have 5 grandchildren.

Mr. Harvey was in the entertainment world with his brother Al Harvey. They were two of the biggest names on radio, playing on their own show, coast to coast.

The community extends best wishes to the Harveys, and hope they enjoy many more happy years here in Minden.

ANNOUNCE APPOINTMENTS TO SIR SANDFORD BOARD

The Hon. William G. Davis, minister of education, has announced the appointment of Lindsay Collegiate principal W. S. W. Breese and Trent University professor Thomas E. W. Nind to the board of governors of Sir Sandford Fleming College.

The appointments fill vacancies created recently when Joseph Holtom, of Lindsay, and President T. H. B. Symons, of Peterborough, retired from the 12-member board.

Peterborough county has a total of six representatives on the board, Victoria county three, Haliburton county two, and the town of Cobourg one.

Chairman of the board is Henry Nokes, of Peterborough. Other members include Charles Brandon, of Minden; Ronald J. Curry, of Haliburton; Hon. Leslie M. Frost, of Lindsay; H. C. Gibson, of Cobourg; W. C. Grant Lakefield; A. M. Hamilton, Peterborough; Donald A. Loucks Peterborough; Mrs. Charles J. Ray, Peterborough; and Mrs. Arthur D. Truax, Lindsay.

BOSHKUNG LAKE COTTAGE ASSOCIATION HONOUR NILA REYNOLDS AT ANNUAL DINNER

The picturesque walls of the Tally-Ho Room of the Squire's Open Hearth Restaurant in Toronto echoed the loud greetings of 130 friendly summer neighbors when the Boshkung Lake Cottagers' Association held their Annual Dinner on Thursday, April 9th. Gay laughter prevailed as young and old exchanged happenings and experiences that had taken place during this long cold winter.

Guests came from far and near to enjoy one of the best social evenings yet staged by this group.

The highlight of the evening was a talk by Mrs. Nila Reynolds, author of "In Quest of Yesterday" as she shared with her audience the history-packed experiences of some of the pioneers of Stanhope Township. In her own inimitable and humorous style she led us back through the years with story after story about the "hard-pressed" trappers and loggers of the early days as they tried so desperately to establish themselves in the beautiful country we have now learned to love so much. Many familiar family names were mentioned and related to the progressive change on this part of Haliburton County. In closing,

Mrs. Reynolds offered the entire Association a challenge to become a working force by helping restore historical records for collections of old reminders of the past. Preservation of wild life was also supported by Miss Grace Irwin as a special way we all could contribute to our summer environment.

Dave Barclay, President of the Association, called on Jock Sault to thank the speaker, who had earlier been introduced by another Vice-President, Bob

with Fenwick Finch

First of all I'd like to thank Mr. Miller for his letter of April the 4th. I noticed by the papers that he was a patient at Minden and I had intended to visit him but by the time I was allowed out he'd left for home.

I remember well my visit to your home Mr. Miller and the enjoyable visit we had over your well-made coffee. The experiences you have had in the past should make good reading in any one of the numerous outdoor magazines we have.

Anytime you care to drop me a line your experiences would be appreciated.

Since I have been lying around the house enjoying poor health I have had quite a bit of time to watch the "Boob tube" the one program I have gotten hooked on is the one by Graham Kerr, the "Gallop Gourmet."

No doubt he is quite a cook but to me I appreciate his skill as a consummate showman. Even the dullest recipe comes to life under his skill.

I'll never be in a position to either afford or be able to eat his rich food but his programme makes my day complete.

Every once in awhile you run across something that the "big League" writers slip up on — take for instance this piece of information off a recent TV programme — the two main characters were discussing a forth coming robbery — the loot was to consist of "High denomination dollar bills." now, ain't that somethin'?

An old friend of mine used to have quite an expression which never ceased to amaze me, he would say, "Something you very often seldom see."

Had a short visit with J. Earl Palmer the other day and he supplied me with an article in Time magazine on "graffiti". This deal must be catching on when a national magazine like Time will give it space. This article entitled Alfresco History and the book has been written by William McLean a sociologist from Fort Worth. The McLean book was researched for some five years and contains some classic graffiti and are in picture and written form.

Mr. McLean seems to feel that Graffiti are simply man's attempt to proclaim his immortality against irreversible odds; he will die, but his name, crudely hewn in some rock of ages will endure.

Speaking of changes — going through Kinmount recently I stopped in at the Kinvale Inn (Jake and Betty VanLier's place) when I noticed they are enlarging their restaurant — a partition has been removed and what used to be a living and TV room has now become part of the restaurant. The furnishing of the room is rustic style and very effective. The red broadloom floor looks pretty snappy.

Met C. H. Irwin the other day and he told me he was working on some information that might prove interesting to my readers — knowing Mr. Irwin's many skills I can feel sure that he's ready with the material it will be both educational and interesting.

Before we finish for this week, two examples of Graffiti recently sent to me show how inflation has hit even this art. Pompeii, written on the wall A.D. 79 — "I am yours for 2 coppers" On a Toronto wash-room, 1969 — "Elsie, $25.00".

Drive carefully, if this art form increases you should be around to enjoy it.

BOSHKUNG LAKE COTTAGE ASSOCIATION HONOUR NILA REYNOLDS AT DINNER

Wiltshire.

A second guest introduced to the meeting by Bev. Robinson was Sinclair Nesbitt, Reeve of Stanhope and Warden of the County of Haliburton. Mr. Nesbitt was warmly applauded by the group for his strong and direct answers to questions put to him. The cottagers were informed that all residents of Stanhope will receive on their 1970 tax bill, credit for that part of the Residential Tax Rebate $10.96, denied them in 1969 by some bungling on the part of the Department of Municipal Affairs. They also received the welcome news that the Airport will henceforth be a debt free asset to the Township.

Interesting and timely information was given by Bev. Robinson reporting on the activities of the Haliburton Highlands Property Owners' Council and the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations.

In addition to the fine dinner, there were draw prizes and prizes for the youngest and the oldest persons present, and for the one who came the farthest. The last was won by Millie Archer, who was there with her entire family — Stan, Cliff and Jan, Don and Chris, and Gary.

President Barclay paid special tribute to his Secretary, Doris Robinson, for producing such a tremendous turnout.

Plans already exist for an even better meeting next spring.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Minden, Ontario
April 14, 1970

Dear Sir:

The following letter was sent to Mr. Ian Sorbie, and we would like you to publish it also.

At a recent meeting of the Haliburton County Ministerial Association your "Letter to the Editor" came up for discussion. We agreed that you showed a great deal of discernment and took a very courageous stand against an evil that is all too prevalent these days.

We want too, as a ministerial, commend you for bringing these matters to the attention of the populace of this area, and for the charge of responsibility you directed to the theatre management that they make a change in their policy. We want you to know we stand behind you in this matter.

Sincerely yours,
L. Schmitt

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Have you ever heard of Joe Nicholson — he's the hot entertainment at the Dominion Hotel every Friday and Saturday night. Joe has been packing them in with his fine Country and Western music. He plays guitar and sings for the Marg Swanton Trio, which includes talented Marg Swanton and Bill Forest.

Another name which is making it in lights these days is Al McMullen of Hospitality Inn, who was currently written up in the St. Petersburg Times, as the hottest batter in the Half Century baseball league. Al leads all hitters with an amazing .490 average.

Getting back to the Dominion Hotel — this place reminds one of the "Pig and Whistle" show on television, or an old country pub. Friday night is amateur night with plenty of participation from the audience. The night we took in the action, the place was really swinging. When Norm Graham took over the fiddle, the step dancers came into their own, we had such locals as Bert McKelvey, Wess Rivers, Mrs. Lloyd McKnight, Frank Mac, Everett Fearrey and a host of others who kept their toes in time with the music. Irv. McKelvey could be heard periodically with the spoons, Molly McKenzie, Mrs. Gerry Mansfield, and a few others sang some lively songs from the stage.

The Marg Swanton Trio however, were the pros, and Joe Nicholson of course was the main attraction everyone came to hear. This young fellow comes from Edmonston New Brunswick, and is married with two children. Joe is a member of the Cross Country Jamboree and the Sterling Jamboree, he came to Minden by way of Fort Erie, where he was known as the "Auctioneer Boy".

Singing Joe, has plenty of talent, besides playing and singing, he does Comedy — I don't know how Hank Snow and some of the others got their start, but Joe Nicholson only needs one break to be up there with them. Don't be surprised if you hear the name over Barrie or Peterborough television in the near future.

Back to St. Petersburg in Florida, where Al McMullen at 53 is a comparative youngster in the Half Century league where one has to be 50 to be a member, some of the active players range in age up to 75 years. The players are divided into two teams — the Pels and Gulls — and they play each other every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from December through March at North Shore Park. These clubs draw some 3,000 to 4,000 people to see them play.

Al has been a keen ball player in Minden, where he has played every year for the Minden Merchants. He will be heading north soon, and with him he will have his batting trophy to display at his resort. The article said, "He was dreaming out loud when he received his trophy, 'What I'd really like to do, is trade my resort for something down here — then I could play softball all year around.'"

MARG SWANTON TRIO SINGS UP A STORM IN DOMINION HOTEL

The Marg Swanton Trio pictured above, featuring Marg Swanton, Bill Forest and Joe Nicholson on the right, are packing them in the Dominion every Friday and Saturday night. Joe Nicholson is the star attraction, as he is the most talented singer to come to this area in many years. Joe is on his way up so move over Hank Snow and all you other Country and Western Singers. For more information on this group — see editorial.

HALIBURTON ARTS SCHOOL OUTLINES SUMMER PROGRAM FOR THIS TERM

Creative couture sewing and a comprehensive course aimed at a better understanding of music are two new subjects offered in an expanding Haliburton School of Fine Arts summer program announced recently by Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Ten courses are slated for the arts school, which will hold classes in the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School from July 20 to August 14.

Painting I, exploring color and form, painting II, introduction to arts for children, weaving, ceramics, driftwood sculpture, creative writing and color slide photography for the amateur round out the program.

Brian Jackson, conductor of the Peterborough Symphony Orchestra and organist and choir-master at St. John's Anglican Church, Peterborough, is the instructor for the new music appreciation course.

He will cover musical form and history, stress the importance of using the ear in order to become a critical listener, and discuss a broad area of music from opera to present-day popular and classical.

David Pequegnat, who has been a head costume cutter with the Stratford Shakespearean Festival and the National Ballet of Canada and a visiting lecturer at the University of Guelph, will conduct the classes in couture finishing.

A third new instructor this year is John Barras Walker, the former editor of Canadian Photography magazine and co-host of CTV's "Camera Room" show, who will conduct the color slide classes.

Directed at the amateur, the course will cover cameras, lenses, exposure, films, filters, simple close-up work, photographing vacations and travel, and night and available light photography.

The school, which is a continuing education branch of Sir Sandford Fleming College, will limit class size to allow for individual instruction. Last year, about 212 students took part.

The concept of an art school was originated by a group of Haliburton Citizens, and still relies in part on the voluntary efforts of the original organization, now known as the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts.

Overall aim of the school is to help both the beginner and the advanced student in arts and crafts.

Fall programs also are conducted, but on a smaller scale than the summer activities.

Many of this summer's subjects are offered on a morning and, or afternoon basis. Fees for all except the children's course are $35 for 10 half days, with longer or shorter periods charged proportionally.

Specific information may be obtained by writing Sir Sandford Fleming College, Peterborough, or the Haliburton School of Fine Arts, Haliburton, Ontario.

HUSKIES TAKE LEAD IN ONTARIO FINALS

The Haliburton Junior "D" Huskies took a two game lead in the Ontario Finals over the Norwich Merchants.

The Huskies won 5 to 4 on Friday night in Norwich and came back to Haliburton Saturday night with a 4 to 2 victory. The game on Friday night was an overtime win for the locals.

The third game of the best of seven series will be played in Norwich on Friday, April 17th with the fourth game back in Haliburton on Sunday afternoon. Game time in Haliburton is slated for 2 p.m.

The Huskies have looked good in this final series against Norwich with a good team effort. If they continue to play like they are capable of playing, Haliburton could be celebrating an Ontario Championship Sunday afternoon.

MINDEN MINOR HOCKEY NEWS

THAT LITTLE TOWN OF KEADY

by Bev. Hicks

Early in March the Minden Bantams received an invitation to play in a Bantam E. hockey tournament in Keady on April 3 and 4. This was a Bantam E finalist tournament. Teams from Oakwood, Warsaw, Plattsville, Drayton, Adastral Park, Honeywood, Shedden, Ilderton, Lion's Head, Ripley, Keady and of course Minden were invited.

With great anticipation we left Minden on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock and arrived in Keady shortly after 5 o'clock, travelling some 170 miles. Keady is about the size of Lochlin, one small general store, one church, one garage, one sales barn, and of course their not elaborate but adequate arena. The homes are mostly farms scattered throughout the surrounding area. It was the responsibility of the people of Keady to billet some 150 boys that night. The people were most hospitable and kind to us during our weekend. The coaches, managers and spectators had their accommodation arranged also. After meeting the convenors as most of us were billeted to a farm close by, we went to meet our host and hostess.

At nine o'clock we played our first game against Shedden who proved to be the better team as we could not seem to hit the net. They beat us 3 - 0. On Saturday we played our next game against Oakwood. They also came out on top to the tune of 4 - 1. Wayne Harrison was the only one who beat the goalie. Before this game with Oakwood our host took us to the sales barn and we were served a free dinner.

We left Keady around 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon and arrived home around 8 p.m.

The biggest thing about this tournament was how interested the people of Keady were in this tournament and how well organized it was. This arena was moved from Whitby 6 years ago piece by piece. It is a wooden structure similar to our Minden arena. They added an auditorium, dressing rooms, wash rooms and a beautiful room overlooking the ice surface. They also curl on this ice surface with an extra sheet adjoining. This arena has recently been paid for by having Saturday night dances. All work including scraping, flooding and booth labour is donated free by the interested people.

Even though we lost our games and disappointed some of the people in Minden, I found something out — Keady has something that Minden hasn't — Hats off to Keady.

On behalf of the team I would like to express sincere thanks to our coach Gene Whitney, our manager Gerald Hicks and Floyd Miller and Lloyd Harrison for making our trip possible.

Just another reminder to parents who have hockey equipment or uniforms still out. The Minor Hockey Association would like to have these in so that they can be tabulated and stored for next year.

Our apologies to Roger Hicks — the press has give Roger a hard time this winter unintentionally. Last week when the picture of the Mite team was in the paper, his name was left off, due to an error. Roger was one of the Mites better performers throughout the winter.

IT'S HAPPENING AT THE MANPOWER CENTER

During the month of March, 1970, the Peterborough Canada Manpower Centre referred 409 clients to employers throughout the area it serves, which includes all of Peterborough and Haliburton Counties, as well as Millbrook and Cavan in Durham County; Campbellford, Hastings, Percy Seymour and Monaghan South in Northumberland County and Bobcaygeon, Omemee, Emily, Somerville and Verulam in Victoria County.

The placement of 125 of these persons had been confirmed by month's end. In addition 50 placements were made in casual jobs.

Over 100 men were interviewed for jobs in mining in the Sudbury area and 13 of these clients have been relocated so far.

These figures compare favourably with March of 1969, which saw 403 referrals, resulting in 161 local placements during a more buoyant economic climate.

At month's end there were 3632 unemployed clients registered with the Canada Manpower Center as seeking full time employment. There were also 133 employers' orders that had not been filled, the majority being in either highly skilled occupations, or in the personal service area, such as live-in housekeepers, cleaning women etc.

Training starts under the Canada Manpower Training Program were arranged for 75 clients of the Peterborough Canada Manpower Centre during March, and at month's end 500 Canada Manpower Center clients were attending courses at the Retraining Division of Sir Sandford Fleming College of Applied Arts and Technology.

Also during March, 61 grants under the Canada Manpower Mobility Program were approved by the Peterborough Office, including 44 exploratory grants and 17 relocation grants. These grants are made to mobile clients, when in the opinion of a Manpower Counsellor, there is no work available for them locally and prospects of permanent work are good in another locality.

The Canada Manpower Center at 130 Hunter Street West, Peterborough, telephone 745-0551, is open each week day from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and appointments can be arranged for other times if necessary. The service is free and available to all Canadian residents.

ABOUT THE TOWN

With Jeanne Sears

Miss Laine has been at our local hospital as Nurse-in-charge since the first of this month. We all welcome her to the community.

At the A.C.W. card party last Wednesday evening at the Parish Hall a large crowd enjoyed an evenings fun. Winners were for cribbage, Anne Dawson and Doug McGee; for euchre Joanne Beattie and Bruce Ack-erblade and Gladys Wruth took the lone hand prize on a cut of cards; for bridge Rose Young. The ladies served a delicious lunch and a social time was enjoyed by all.

The Rotary Bingo had another lucky lady there, in the person of Judy Sims winning the Snowball of $71.00. Congratulations.

We note from a F.D.D. leaflet that 20 per cent of all poisonings is from A.S.A. tablets left available in either kitchen, bedroom or bathroom and in that order. A new label is planned with a red octagonal marking. Do be careful and keep these tablets out of thereach of curious toddlers.

Helen Newton and Bonnie Lee Prentice of Peterboro Teachers College are practise teaching at Lakeview School, Haliburton for their second assignment.

Patients at the local hospital early this week included R. Leemet, Sam Welch, Mrs. Effie Newman, Mrs. Millie Prentice, Mrs. S. Crawford, Mrs. Audry Douglas and Miss Lisa Sawyers. Also seriously ill in out of town hospitals are Mrs. James Trumbull, Mrs. Bill Hounsell, and Holly Stevens.

Mrs. Sears and her assistant Mrs. R. Lewis attended the County Library Workshop Seminar last Thursday morning and enjoyed the buffet lunch served by the county staff. They also brought back some new books as well as requests.

Hint of the Week — In the last weekend Homes section of the Toronto Star there was mention made of mildew odors. Some of the remedies were cloves, lysol, wintergreen, charcoal, formaldehyde and mustard; check on the use of these.

Apparently there was nearly a Walk-Out at our District High School last week. Perhaps the class representatives should get together with the teachers and principal, or are the class electing the wrong students to represent them?

This is Cancer Month so support this fine effort and be generous when the canvasser calls.

The snow is getting away very easily and the pussy willows are out but a little late this year. Cheerio until next week.

Walter Safety says,
 "Think, don't sink!
 Be water wise!
 Learn and practise
 water safety every day.
 If you're ever in trouble in the water,
 call for help."

ONLY YOUR HAIRDRESSER REALLY KNOWS?

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

by William Scott M.P.

There is a piece of legislation before the House of Commons that points up more graphically than ever before that our present government continues to legislate with reckless abandon, and govern with callous indifference.

The government's bill to outlaw public statements and the dissemination of literature that reflects unfavourably on ethnic groups, racial minorities and religious groups is a thinly disguised attempt to control and regulate public dissent in this country. For a time, it appeared that the bill would slip through the Commons and become law before anyone was even remotely aware of its implications. But, the opposition party forced a full debate and the story is out.

The first part of the bill is innocuous enough; it states that it is a criminal offence for any person or group to advocate and promote the genocide of any other 'identifiable' group in Canada. If that had been the only purpose of the bill it could have been pushed through with no argument or debate to speak of. After all, no member of parliament would vote against such a proposition. It must be noted here, though, that there is no necessity for such a law in Canada, and so it is a useless exercise that is wasting valuable time in the Commons. Canadians are civilized and sophisticated people, and the chances of anyone advocating genocide of any group in our society, or of getting popular support for such a move, are just too remote to consider. There are far too many important issues before the House that have priority over such legislation.

The proposed bill will also make it a crime to speak out in public, or distribute literature, that would tend to stir up hatred or resentment against any 'identifiable' group in this country. Herein lies the danger in the law. With such a law on the books, people will generally suppose that the problems of hate and distrust in our society will cease to exist simply because they are against the law.

Other provisions in the bill would allow a court to determine whether any person to an endless variety of interpretations. Such a law would be effective only against persons who cannot afford the services of a competent lawyer. In other words, it is a further extension of the view in this country that there is a law for the rich and another for the poor. No government can pass laws that will force people to express love instead of hate. No government can force people to think good thoughts, or to accept rather than reject people of another race or religious belief. These things can only be accomplished through education and understanding, and by elevating the individual in this country to his rightful status. A citizen who has self respect, and respect for his government, will learn to accept and respect the people around him no matter what his colour or race or creed.

NEW BOOKS AT MINDEN LIBRARY

North Cape, Joe Poyer, Adult Fiction, Doubleday. A super story with setting in the arctic. Can Telemann survive to give the essential information to the Americans before he is captured by the Russians?

London Under Fire 1940 - 45, Henry M., A.N.F., J. M. Dent. This is a true story of London England. Who would miss reading of London with the enemy at its throat during the second World War.

Do not Annoy the Indians, Betty Baker, J. Fiction, Macmillan. An interesting story with many amusing incidents to give its young readers a vivid and refreshing view of what the Old West was really like.

Son of the Mohawks, Edwards C.A.M., J.N.F. Ryerson. This is a true story of Pierre Radisson as a boy when he was captured by the mohawks and after two escapes finally returns by way of Europe to his home in Three Rivers.

Conservation A Must

by R. W. Tippet, Forester

The need for conservation is great. The forest lands of Canada provide an environment basic to the economic and social well-being of Canadians. They have a vital role in providing raw materials for the wood using industries, in purifying air and water, in regulating water supplies and in making available to Canadians and their visitors a vast outdoor in which a multitude of recreational, educational and scientific activities can be pursued.

Unfortunately, too few Canadians understand or appreciate the inter-relationships of man and nature. The forests, wildlife and water is our heritage that was freely given to us. It can be a continuous source of enjoyment and wealth without loss to itself or to us if we are willing to take increasing precautionary steps with each increase of use.

The first settlers in the forests of Canada were delighted to be able to hunt without restrictions. Birds and animals provided them with food, clothing, income and sport. When wildlife was plentiful, the settlers were well fed; in times of wildlife scarcity they often went hungry.

As time went on and the land was cleared the wildlife habitat was greatly cranged. The change was an advantage for species like the white-tailed deer and the ruffed grouse which find little to feed on in coniferous forests but thrive on the browse, berries, and insects to be found among the regenerating hardwood stands and shrubs that follow clearing and burning. Other species, such as the buffalo, disappeared or were greatly reduced in number. Today, Canada shares with Alaska the distinction of being the last refuge of many of the larger game animals of North America.

Once a species has been exterminated, it can never be replaced. If it is to be preserved it must not be destroyed at a greater rate than it can increase, and it must have areas of normal range where it can live undisturbed.

Extermination of a species is a serious matter, but perhaps the passing of the passenger pigeon and other birds may not have been entirely in vain, for their tragedies pointed to the necessity of stopping the needless slaughter of wildlife, and help pave the way toward game conservation. With wise use, forest lands may be made productive of wildlife, irrespective of their use for other purposes.

Nature is very old and very wise, and understands better than anyone else what the wild things require for their homes. She sets the balance between all the elements of their natural surroundings, and the adjustments are very delicate. For example a tree weakened by some cause or other, breaks off in a storm and crashes to the ground, leaving a stump of ten to fifteen feet high with its jagged splinters pointing to the sky. To man, the stump is ugly and the down part of the tree clutters up the ground. But for wild things of the forest, this shattered tree has various and definite uses. The tall stump may make an ideal home for a woodpecker family. Certainly, when the insects begin to work in the decaying bark and wood, there is ample food for the woodpeckers and other insect-eating birds. Even if the woodpeckers vacate the stump, their work in excavating a home is not wasted, for other birds may take up residence, or perhaps a squirrel may move in. The sharp jagged splinters have their use as a perch for the song sparrow or the whitethroat. And even wasps may chew from these same splinters the fibres for their papery nests.

The fallen portion of the tree provides a place for the ruffed grouse to strut and drum. It may make a cache for the squirrel to store his winter food, or it may offer a hiding-place for an unexpected enemy. As time goes on, a bear in search of food may tear open the rotting log to dig out ants.

A forest without wildlife would lack much of its interest. The scurrying of ruffed grouse, the chatter of squirrels, the flash of the blue jay, the hammering of the woodpecker, and the music of song birds all unite to make one realize how wonderful a privilege it is to be able to enjoy nature.

One of the important characteristics of the forest is that it is a product of the soil and as such is a renewable resource. Like a farmer's crop it grows; unlike a farmer's crop, it takes from 60 to 100 years or more before it is ready to harvest. This crop covers 42% of Canada's land area, is responsible for an annual wealth of $15,000 million, and provides employment for 322,000 people and enjoyment for many more.

Does this resource not require your protection?

Peter Gzowski, the host of the popular roller coaster show, Radio Free Friday, has decided it's too much to edit Maclean's Magazine and host RFF at the same time. He's left RFF and the producers at this writing are still scouting for a replacement.

It's time for the Easter Seal campaign for the Crippled Children's Fund On Stage, Saturday April 18, CBC radio presents The Easter Seal Show with emcee Fred Davis, chanteuse Daniele Dorice, Folk-singing group The Travellers, fiddler Al Cherny, The Steiner Brothers and Major Hoople's Boarding House. Quite a lineup for a good show for a good cause.

Suspensions confirmed — Did you ever think that some film-makers produce films that are close to pornographic simply so that they can be entered in arty film festivals? On Theatre 10:30 Minday to Friday April 20 - 24, Montreal dramatist Bill Davies' story Filming the Orgy on Third Beach carries that theory one further. It's a farce on the rather unscrupulous Canadian film-maker who produces a purely pornographic film and enters it in a Canadian film festival. When the film is thrown out of the competition, the film-maker tries several dubious means of persuading the authorities to reconsider. The case even comes up in Parliament. It's purely fictional, but good fun.

Be prepared to miss some of your favorite programs on Tuesday, April 21, when the Apollo XIII space craft splashes down, if everything goes according to schedule.

Western wheat farmers have a chance to state their case on Soundings, Wednesday, April 22. They'll thrash out the questions of overnment subsidies for not growing wheat, the exodus of farm people to other parts of Canada, the idea of western separatism. And they're very serious problems, deserving of consideration.

Marcel Marceau on radio? Aw, c'mon you're kidding. No, sir! The famous French pantomimist talks about his art on Ideas Network Wednesday, April 22. Marceau talks about the art of the mim, how it developed and changed from the Greek world through the court entertainments of the Middle Ages to the present. His own methods have changed throughout his career. He illustrates the three stages — objects, symbols and abstracts — with corresponding poems and musical pieces.
